

115 OBJECTIONS OF COUNSEL

The lawyers for the parties have a duty to object to what they feel are improper questions. Do not draw any conclusion for either side if an objection was made to a question and the witness was not permitted to answer.

COMMENT

The instruction and comment were originally published in 1960. The instruction was revised in 1985, 1991, and 2010. The comment was updated in 2015.

Frion v. Craig, 274 Wis. 550, 557, 80 N.W.2d 808, 812 (1957); Johnson v. Cintas Corp. No. 2., Appeal No. 2013AP2323 (Recommended for publication).